Two MIG21 Jets Shot Down In Dogfight Today

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy fighter-bombers shot down two MIG21 jets over North Vietnam today in the first dogfight in two weeks, the U.S. Command announced.

The command also announced that 40 Vietnamese civilians were killed and 36 were wounded when U.S. Army helicopters returned enemy ground fire in the Mekong delta nine days ago. It said the civilians were in a "large group" which was firing on the helicopters.

The Soviet-designed MIG21s, the most advanced plane in North Vietnam's air force, were brought down by air-to-air missiles fired by F4C Phantoms from the carrier Constellation.

First Since July

The latest confirmed kills were the first since July 21 when Navy pilots from the carrier Bon Homme Richard downed three of the earlier model MIG17s. On July 27, U.S. pilots said they probably shot down a MIG21, but this was never confirmed.

The score now stands at 82 confirmed MIG kills for U.S. pilots and 20 American planes downed by the Communist interceptors in aerial combat over the North.

Field reports said the civilians killed and wounded by the American helicopter gun crew Aug. 2 were in a crowd of peasants returning from the rice fields and that a Viet Cong force mingled with them as it withdrew after overrunning a government outpost.

The U.S. Command said a "U.S. Army light helicopter fire team"—believed to number two or three helicopters—was supporting the militia outpost 70 miles south of Saigon and "received permission to return enemy fire being received from a large group."

In the ground war today, significant fighting subsided again after the fierce battle Wednesday between troops of the 1st Air Cavalry Division and North Vietnamese forces in the Song Re Valley of the central lowlands, 330 miles north of Saigon.

Crime Up 48 Pct. In 6 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's crime rate rocketed 48 per cent in the last six years — with violent crimes soaring 11 per cent las year alone — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported today.

In its annual report on U.S. crime, the FBI reported:

—Since 1960, while the nation grew 9 per cent, the volume of crime rose 62 per cent.

—In the past year the per capita crime rate was up 10.2 per cent while the number of crimes rose 11.4 per cent.

— The number of serious crimes solved averaged 24 per cent, a significent drop in the number solved the previous year. The percentage of crimes solved also dropped 8 per cent over the previous five-year period.

The report estimated that nearly 3.25 million serious crimes were committed in 1966, including an estimated 10,920 homicides. More than $1.2 billion in property was lost but more than half of this later was recovered.

Hoover said that during the past year the 11 per cent jump in violent crimes was led by robbery, up 14 per cent; forcible rape up 10; homicide 11, and aggravated assault 9.

Property crimes also were up 11 per cent, with larceny over $50 up 10 per cent and automobile theft up 13 per cent.

The report noted that while 54 per cent of those arrested for larceny were under 18, this group accounted for 63 per cent of those booked for auto theft.

Of all offenses on the FBI's crime index, the report said, "auto theft had, by far, the largest percentage of arrests of persons under 18."

The report also included the latest material on the FBI's justice system.

The report said a followup on nearly 18,000 such persons released by the federal system in 1963 showed 55 per cent were rearrested for new crimes within two and a half years.

"A significant statistic was the fact that 83 per cent of those persons acquitted or who had their cases dismissed in 1963 were rearrested for new crimes within 30 months," the report said.

Tito Working For Peace In Middle East

By The Associated Press

Talks between Jordan and Israel were reported in prospect today as Yugoslav President Tito sought to work out a Middle East peace formula with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Jordan's former development minister, Ismail Hejazi, told a reporter for the Jerusalem Post that Jordan would announce to the coming Arab summit conference its intention of negotiating with Israel.

Asked when plans for such talks would be made public, Hejazi replied: "within 10 days, perhaps, Allah willing." Hejazi is known to be close to King Hussein.

To Assure Borders

Tito, flying to Cairo today, recently received a message from President Johnson. The Yugoslav president was reported to have worked out a plan calling for Israeli withdrawal from Arab territory it conquered in June and the guarantee of Israel's borders as they were before the war by the big powers or the U.N. Security Council.

Tito generally regarded in Cairo as a "most acceptable peace mediator," and there are abundant indications that his mediation is also favored by Moscow and Washington.

Nasser told an Egyptian rally recently, that Egypt will "not slam the door to a political settlement," indicating that warlike action would be his last resort. But he stressed that the "struggle would continue," and that "we are no less determined than the people of Vietnam."

Dayan Cheered

In Tel Aviv, Defense Minister Moshe Dayan told cheering Israelis at a political rally that Israel should not return to its 1949 armistice borders.

Dayan stressed that he was giving his personal views, then declared: "We must not allow other countries, acting in their own interest, to force us to return to the old situation. We will not return to the armistice agreements nor to their borders."

Jordanian officials in Amman reported the Israelis had delayed delivery of repatriation forms for Arab refugees who want to return to homes in Israeli-held western Jordan. But Israeli officials in Jerusalem said Israel has delivered 10,000 forms to the Red Cross for distribution.

The number of refugees in Jordan was estimated at 235,000, and authorities in Amman said at least 130,000 were expected to apply to return.

Brown Brushes Rally Welcome By Gov. Kirk

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Black Power advocate H. Rap Brown turned his back Wednesday on Gov. Claude Kirk, who had tried to welcome him to Florida, and walked away from a sheriff, who tried to read him a riot act.

Brown told a rally, "The streets are yours. Take them whenever you're ready."

Kirk flew to Jacksonville from the state capital at Tallahassee and was the only white man except for newsmen at the rally of 800 Negroes.

When the governor walked smilingly through the crowd, he was applauded and cheered but when he picked up the public address microphone later to speak he was booed lustily.

Brown Gets Boos

Many in the crowd shouted, "Yeah, Rap" and "Black Power" when Brown was driven onto the field before Kirk's appearance, but a group of about 40 chanted to Brown: "Go back home! Go back home! We don't need you! We don't need you!"

Brown stepped from the car, waving both fists in the air. The crowd came to its feet and surged to the fence separating the stands from the field.

When Kirk took the microphone connected to speakers on a car parked on the field the crowd booed.

"Quiet, quiet," Kirk said. "May I have your attention?"

"They don't want to hear you. They want to hear me," Brown told Kirk.

When Brown got the microphone, Kirk offered to shake his hand but Brown brushed it away. "Welcome to Florida," the governor said as he put his hand on Brown's shoulder, but Brown shrugged it away and turned to his talk.

Calls Kirk "Hunky"

"If this hunky wants to campaign, let him pay for it," Brown said.

Kirk went into the stands, dividing his time between listening to Brown and talking with Negroes and newsmen.

When Brown arrived in Jacksonville Wednesday he was met at International Airport by Sheriff Dale Carson who tried to read to him part of an antiriot act signed into law by Kirk two weeks ago. The law makes incitement to riot a felony for the first time in Florida, punishable by two years in prison. Brown walked away from Carson after just a few words of the reading.

Brown's rambling talk was filled with criticisms of white society but he often stopped short of telling the Negroes what to do about them. "You know what to do," he repeated several times.

Later Kirk went on television —accompanied by a Negro lieutenant from the Florida National Guard—and said, "Brown is incapable of inciting a riot. The thing to do with him is put him on national television for three hours, let everybody see him and that will be that.

War And Riots Top Issues In 1968 Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Outnumbered congressional Republicans are taking the offensive in a bid to demonstrate they have politically salable alternatives to President Johnson's domestic and foreign programs.

With the presidential election 15 months away, GOP leaders in the House and Senate have launched a campaign to convince voters there is a Republican choice if they don't like the way Johnson is running the Vietnam war or coping with city rioting.

The action Wednesday by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen in picking up the ball quickly after a House Republican-Southern Democrat coalition rewrote the President's anticrime bill pointed toward a coordinated attempt to paste a Republican label on riot-curbing legislation.

Dirksen's prediction that the Senate will go along with a House decision to let the states spend the anticrime funds—rather than channel them through the attorney general as Johnson requested—could be fulfilled only with Southern Democratic support.

In this instance Dirksen and House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford didn't seem to shun the presence in their camp of Dixie segregationists, with whom Ford said previously Republicans didn't want to associate politically.

Ford's solo demand a day earlier to take the wraps off the bombing of North Vietnam put the Republicans in the position of pointing toward a quicker way of ending the Asian conflict than Johnson's limited warfare course offers.

Southern and some Western Democrats supported Ford's contention that vital military targets have been kept off limits to U.S. bombers.

After listening in closed session to Adm. Ulysses S. G. Sharp, commander of all U.S. forces in the Pacific, Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate preparedness subcommittee said the testimony showed "the need for continued bombing of additional military targets of value to the enemy."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said ports, power and petroleum targets could be hit without extending the war and risking Red Chinese intervention.

Bean Queen

BAY CITY (AP) — Seventeen-year-old Barbara Geis, a 5-foot, 3-inch, green-eyed blond from Bay City, has been named Bay County Bean Queen for 1967. Miss Geis, who plans to enter Delta College in the fall, will compete in the Michigan Bean Queen Festival at Fairgrove on Labor Day.

Nigerian Mutiny Is Threat To Oilfields

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—The spread of the Nigerian rebellion to the Midwest region is threatening the federal government with the loss of the rest of the nation's oilfields, but the government claims that loyal troops are holding out.

A radio broadcast from Benin, the Midwest provincial capital 65 miles west of the Niger River, said mutinous federal troops aided by rebels from Biafra have captured both Benin and Warri, the oil center 60 miles to the south.

The broadcast proclaimed in the name of the "national liberation army" that the region had been "liberated by units of Midwest troops and friendly Biafran troops who came to help them."

Shooting was heard Wednesday in the streets of Benin, a city of 120,000 about 150 miles southeast of Lagos and an equal distance southwest of Enugu, capital of Eastern Nigeria where the government has proclaimed the independent state of Biafra. The rest of Nigeria's oil is in Biafra.

Normal communications between Lagos and Benin were cut.

The federal government admitted Wednesday night that the rebels had "infiltrated into the Midwest."

The government reported fighting between loyal and rebel forces in Benin, Warri and other Midwest towns, but claimed "loyal troops are holding out until reinforcements arrive in the area to crush the rebels."

Warri, a center of offshore oil operations, is the base for about half of the 200 Americans living in the Midwest region. Many are employes of the Gulf Oil Corp.

Reports received in Lagos said a number of Americans were stopped when they tried to leave Warri by water. But a Gulf spokesman in New York claimed that all the Americans had been evacuated from the river town.

Three Yanks Die In Korea Ambush

SEOUL (AP) — Three American soldiers were killed and about 15 others were wounded today in a North Korean ambush on Korea's western front, the U.S. 8th Army reported. At least one South Korean soldier also was wounded.

The victims of the Communist attack were riding in a truck in the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division area about 35 miles north of Seoul. The Communists hit the truck with grenades and opened fire from concealed positions with automatic weapons, the Army said.

Soldiers on the truck immediately returned fire and reinforcements were rushed to the scene to engage the attackers. However, Communist casualties were not known, the Army said.

The casualties were members of the U.S. 7th Infantry Division who were working in the 2nd Division area, the Army reported.

The attack took place north of the Imjin River along the western portion of the Korean demilitarized zone, an Army spokesman said.

No other details were available.

Another American was seriously wounded and his scout dog killed in another North Korean attack earlier today in the 2nd Division sector, the spokesman said. He said an American patrol about 500 yards south of the demilitarized zone was fired on by four or five North Koreans who were about 200 yards north of them.

The distance between the two attacks was not announced. The 2nd Division guards 18½ miles of the 151-mile armistice line in the vicinity of the Panmunjom armistice village.

Viet Candidates Charge Sabotage Of Campaigning

SAIGON (AP) — Seven of South Vietnam's 10 civilian presidential candidates refused today to hit the hustings unless their military opponents assure them transportation and security.

"We will not campaign until we have final word from the government to provide transportation and security," said Tran Van Huong, considered the leading civilian in the race.

The civilian candidates previously postponed their campaigning following a mixup last Sunday in arrangements at the first stop of a 22-town tour. Arriving in Quang Tri Province 425 miles north of Saigon, they found no official party to meet them and returned to Saigon charging Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky were trying to sabotage their campaign.

Thieu and Ky are the military candidates for president and vice president and are expected to win the election Sept. 3.

The angry candidates wrote Thieu and Ky on Tuesday demanding assurance that there would be no further hitches if they resumed the tour. When no reply was received, six of the candidates and a representative of a seventh met today.

After talking for three hours, they announced they would stop all public campaigning until the government replied to their letter.

GOP Governors Plan Riot Curb

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight Republican governors meet behind closed doors today to draw up a "state action program" aimed at curbing racial violence and rebuilding the nation's slums.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, citing an urgent need to "preserve law and order" in the cities, called the meeting of the policy committee of the Republican Governor's Conference.

A spokesman for Rockefeller said the program "is expected to include specific steps that can be taken by states in the fields of employment, job training, improving the physical environment of slums, crime control and expanding social and recreational services."

Staff representatives of the eight governors met here Tuesday "to go over the action program," the spokesman said. The governor's final draft is to be sent to the nation's 42 other governors for consideration.

Rockefeller, chairman of the policy committee, will be joined at the conference by Govs. George Romney of Michigan, John Love of Colorado, Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, John A. Volpe of Massachusetts and Nils A. Boe of South Dakota.

Rockefeller's office said he called for the GOP session after his attempts to convene a special meeting of the National Governors Conference failed.

Governors who said they were invited to the meeting but would be unable to attend included James A. Rhodes of Ohio, Claude R. Kirk Jr. of Florida, Ronald Reagan of California, Daniel J. Evans of Washington and Warren P. Knowles of Wisconsin.

New Fire Truck:

City, Townships Seeking Better Fire Protection

Authorization to purchase a tri-township fire truck to cost approximately $27,000 will bring the townships and the City of Escanaba nearer their goal of improved fire protection for the area, Fire Chief Palmer Derouin said today.

The go-ahead signal for the purchase, which has been under discussion for some time, was given at a meeting of three townships supervisors and the fire chief on Tuesday.

The three cooperating townships were represented by Charles Sedenquist, Wells Township supervisor; Jerome Stannard, supervisor of Ford River Township, and Eugene C. Beck, Escanaba Township supervisor.

Ford River, Wells and Escanaba Townships and the City of Escanaba are cooperating in the arrangement to bring better fire protection to the people of the area. The city firemen answer calls from the three townships and the city is reimbursed by the township on an approved payment schedule.

An investment in new equipment has become necessary if the service is to be maintained, and the new fire truck will replace a truck that is 20 years old, said Chief Derouin.

The bid of the Home Equipment Co. has been accepted but it will be several months before delivery can be completed, the fire chief reported. When it does arrive it will be housed at the North Escanaba fire station.

Training of the fire fighters is a continuing program for both the old hands as well as the new men in the department, Fire Chief Derouin reported. "It keeps all of us up to date on fire fighting methods," he said.

Chief Derouin, Lt. Edsel Bedard and Lt. Alfred Breault of the Escanaba fire department will attend the annual U. P. "fire college" to be held at the Northern Michigan University campus in Marquette Aug. 14-16.

Sponsored by NMU in cooperation with the University of Michigan and the Michigan State Police, the workshop will include the actual burning of a deteriorated and vacant building to demonstrate the various ways of extinguishing a fire.

The program also will feature presentations on arson, recent changes in fire laws, hose layouts, use of ladders, and the use, handling and control of natural and bottled gas and other flammable liquids. Training films will supplement the presentations.

Keynote addresses will be given by Capt. Glenroy Walker, chief, Fire Marshal's Division, Michigan State Police; F. Harry Andrews, Northern Propane Gas Co., Minneapolis, Minn.; and Dwight Leavitt, director of safety and personnel, U. P. Power Co., Houghton.

Army Recruiting Station Wins Top 10 Rating

The Army Recruiting Station in Escanaba has once again been designated one of the "top ten" recruiting stations in the area, according to official notification received from the Recruiting Main Station in Milwaukee by Sgt. 1/c Nelson Sebring, local Army recruiter.

The high standing has been maintained for the past months and was awarded again for July. The relative standings of the stations are evaluated on factors including the number of personnel who have enlisted or reenlisted and the applicants who are qualified for officer's training, nurses and pilots.

"This willingness to serve their country is commendable, reflects very favorably on the high moral character of the young men of Escanaba," Sgt. Sebring said.

Seek Slayers Of Girls Downstate

YPSILANTI (AP) — An investigation into the death of Eastern Michigan University coed Mary Flezar continued today, but State Police said they have made little progress toward finding her killer.

"We have very little to go on in the case," said Sgt. Ronald Schoonmaker of the Ypsilanti Post. "We're carefully checking out all tips and leads."

Miss Flezar's nude, badly decomposed body was found Monday near Ypsilanti. The 19-year-old coed disappeared from her apartment July 9.

A medical examiner's report said Miss Flezar died of multiple stab wounds. It said her fingers and feet had been removed, apparently in an effort to prevent identification of the body. Positive identification of the body was made from dental x-rays.

Cases Not Connected

Schoonmaker said there appeared to be no connection between the Fleszar case and the death of Roxanne Sandbrook, 13, of Lansing, whose mutilated body was found near Jackson Monday.

A man and a woman are held in the death of the Lansing girl and murder warrants will be sought against one or both, Jackson County Prosecutor Bruce Barton said.

The development came after authorities identified a body found Sunday in a dump near Jackson as that of Roxanne Sandbrook, missing from her home since July 17.

State Police, meanwhile, announced positive identification of a second body found near a lover's lane in a brush-covered section of a farm field a mile north of Ypsilanti.

Doctors at University Medical Center, Ann Arbor, who performed an autopsy on the second body, which was nude, said it is that of Mary Fleszar, 19, a co-ed at Eastern Michigan University missing since July 9.

Sexual Attacks

State Police classified both deaths tentatively as resulting from sexual attacks.

Details of the autopsy on the co-ed's body were not divulged but one doctor said no bullet wounds were found.

Miss Fleszar disappeared after telling her roommate that she was going for a walk.

Cpl. Richard Vansipe, of the Jackson State Police Post, said an investigation into Roxanne's death by Jackson Post detectives led to the arrest of Lloyd W. Higdon, 25, of Lansing, and Luville Brumit, 29, of Grand Rapids. He said they knew Roxanne.

Barton refused to describe the persons under arrest except to say that one—presumably the man — was arrested while in jail as a parole violator.

He declined to discuss the circumstances of the death.

Suspects Held

He said identification of the body was made through clothing, a watch, a ring and other characteristics.

The two suspects were held in Jackson, but Barton said it was not certain whether Roxanne was killed there or in Jackson County.

A scavenging couple discovered Roxanne's body in a rubbish dump a mile north of Jackson.

LUCILLE BRUMIT, 29, of Grand Rapids, and Lloyd W. Higdon, 25, of Lansing, were arraigned in justice court in Jackson Wednesday, charged with the murder of Rozanne Sandbrook, 13, of Lansing. The teen-age girl's body was found in a dump Sunday. Higdon waived examination and Brumit demanded examination. They are being held in the county jail at Jackson. (AP Wirephoto)

The body of Miss Fleszar was found in a field near the intersection of Geddes and Le Forge roads.

The body was discovered by two Saline youths, Russell Crisovan and Mark Lucas, as they plowed farm land rented by Crisovan's father.

The youths told detectives they heard a car door slam in a lover's lane next to the field and went to investigate. The body was a few feet from the lane. The car was gone.

The youths drove to the Ypsilanti post and returned with troopers.

Body Decomposed

Detective Kenneth Taylor said the body was badly decomposed, probably because of the warm weather.

The girl's body found near Jackson was also decomposed.

Roxanne disappeared the afternoon of July 17, when she left home to play.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sandbrook and one of four or five children, police said.

Roxanne's body was found by a man and a woman combing the dump for antiques, police said. The dump is on Ridge road, just off M-127, north of Jackson.

The EMU co-ed, Miss Fleszar, took no purse or additional clothing with her when she went for a walk July 9. Police found that she had withdrawn no money from her bank account.

University officials said she had not had trouble with her grades, and friends said she had not appeared to be depressed for any reason.

Shared Apartment

Miss Fleszar, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fleszar, live in Augusta Township, just south of Ypsilanti, shared an apartment near the campus with another girl.

The apartment is about 2½ miles from where the body was found.

The co-ed, a sophomore, was working her way through school as a secretary at the EMU field service office, which directs the university's extension program.

She was described as 5 feet 2 and weighing about 110 pounds. She has dark brown hair and green eyes.

At the time of her disappearance, she was wearing glasses and an orange polka-dot dress.

Her boss at the field service office, Earl Studt, said it was his impression that Miss Fleszar often dated young men, but did not go steady.

A member of a devout family, she played the organ and was in the choir at St. Joseph Catholic Church at Willis near her parents' home. Her father is an electrical engineer.

Navy Dictionary Unwinds Latest In Gobbledygook

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has put out its latest dictionary of gobbledygook allegedly used to inform sailors about transfers or assignments, and FYI, ROB PA doesn't mean stick up your father.

FYI is the old standby abbreviation, "for your information."

ROB is "report on board."

PA means "pending availability."

These are the simplest of an assemblage of verbal mishmash which the Navy has drawn up to keep interservice messages short.

A new Navy order sent to all ships and stations directs commanding officers to use the abbreviations "to the maximum extent possible, except where the need for clarity is an overriding consideration."

Not only are there abbreviatitns in the little Navy dictionary but also equivalents for certain phrases, sentences or groups of sentences used in naval orders—280 entries in all, ranging from ABPM to WHAP.

The Navy managed to use as few commonly known abbreviations as possible but improvised on one or two. In addition to FYI, there's FYIG which means "for your information and guidance."

CONUS means "continental United States," but the Navy also has INUS, "in the United States," as well as OUTUS, which means you-know-what.

"It's ridiculous," one officer said, "but if we had to spell those words out, our communications would be behind three years."

He maintained the list is useful WHAP—when and where applicable.

Some might challenge that for HUMS—humanitarian reasons.

Chorale

MARQUETTE—A workshop in new choral music will be held at Northern Michigan University Saturday, Aug. 12.

Emphasis during the workshop, which will begin at 10 a. m. in the choral room of the Thomas Fine Arts Building, will be on new octovos suitable for secondary and elementary school choruses, and on sacred selections.

Scientists say octopuses have three hearts and the keenest brain of all nonvertebrate animals.

NMU To Receive $2.9 Million Loan

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University has obtained a $2.9 million loan from the U. S. Housing and Urban Development Administration (HUD) for two new dormitories and a food service facility.

Northern will use the government loan to finance the construction of Magers and Meyland Residence Halls in the northwest section of the campus.

According to Leo M. Van Tassel, vice president for business and finance for Northern, the loan covers approximately half of the $5.9 million cost for the residence hall complex in that area.

The other half includes Hunt and Van Antwerp Halls, which are rapidly nearing completion and are expected to be opened next month for the fall term.

Magers and Meyland Halls were finished last fall, with construction having been started on a loan obtained through private sources.

The HUD loan must be paid within 40 years, and is at a low rate of interest, VanTassel said. Repayment will be made with funds obtained from the operation of the residence hall complex.

Construction of the Hunt and Van Antwerp Halls also is being financed on a self-liquidating revenue bond issue. Application also has been made to HUD for assistance in this program.

In such cases, NMU spokesmen explained, construction of the buildings is started on temporary loans, while the revenue bonds are being prepared. The loan from HUD "buys" the revenue bonds.

VanTassel said the original quadrangle construction cost estimate was $6 million, but that it was trimmed to about $5.9 million.

DOLLAR VALUE— PLUS

In an emergency, the value of medicine can hardly be reckoned in dollars. Medicine is priceless when needed.

Yet it is an interesting fact that nationally the average cost of a pharmaceutical prescription is about $2.50 — and more than half of all prescriptions cost less than $2.00. Although higher than 20 years ago, the increase in the cost of medicine lags far behind that of other, and less essential, commodities.

When you purchase a prescription, you are sharing in the fruits of scientific research. You are getting today's best buy.

Henslee Tells Schools' Needs

Forrest Henslee, a member of the Board of Education of the Escanaba Area Public Schools, told the Senior Citizens Committees o the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce at the Chamber building Tuesday of the need for the 5 mills which will be voted upon Aug. 30. The 5 mills would produce the $260,000 needed for school operational expenses.

Henslee said that the 1967-68 budget unofficially will be $2,136,361, of which 80½ per cent will be allocated for salaries.

The school district needs 7 extra teachers: one elementary principal, four high school teachers, and 3 special education teachers (one for the Kennedy School).

Henslee said that teachers' salaries are increasing and if Escanaba is going to continue to give first class education, first class teachers must be h[illegible].

The school board is offering a minimum of $5,700 to teachers with a BA degree, Henslee said, and a minimum of $6,200 to teachers with master degrees. He said that 35 per cent of school revenue comes from local taxes and 65 per cent from state and federal aid and local fees.

Henslee stated that the 2.6 per cent new state income tax will probably not affect most wage earners in the Escanaba Area School District and strongly urged support of the millage request.

Greek Girl Is 'Adopted' By Escanaba Woman

In place of the girl in Greece, financially "adopted" a few years ago and who no longer needs PLAN help, Mrs. Alice B. Fawcett, 710 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, has financially "adopted" Maria Andrikopoulou, a 9-year-old Greek girl, through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., 352 Park Ave. S., New York, N.Y., 10010.

The "adoption" is financial, not legal, and costs $15 a month for a minimum of one year. Foster Parents often continue supporting the same child until he graduates from school or reaches 16.

As soon as a Foster Parent makes the first payment he receives a photograph and case history of his child. Soon the child's first letter (original and translation) arrives. Every month Foster Parents and child exchange letters. Foster Parents' Plan is 30 years old.

The $15 monthly payment by an individual or group supports a child and his family. This sum provides a cash grant every month of more than half the total amount, clothing, household equipment, medical care, education, as well as guidance and counselling from the North American Director and his staff of local social workers.

Guardsman Is Riot Victim

DETROIT (AP) — The only National Guardsman to die as a result of the Detroit riot will receive a full military funeral in Detroit Saturday.

Sgt. Larry Post, 26, died Wednesday in Ford Hospital of a gunshot wound in the abdomen.

He was believed shot by a sniper early July 26 while trying to stop a car which allegedly ignored a roadblock.

A four-year member of the guard, Post was attached to C Battery of the 2nd Battalion, 182nd Field Artillery of Michigan's Infantry Division. He was single, and worked in the engine design section of Ford Motor Co.

A requiem mass for Post will be sung in the Sacred Heart of Jesus Polish National Catholic Church. Memorial services will be held Friday.

$917 Million Lost In Newark Riots

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—P. Bernard Nortman, chief of the office of Economic Development, said in a television interview Wednesday that $9.7 million in damage loss was incurred in Newark riots last month.

CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT stream improvement crewmen under direction of David Johnson, habitat biologist, found general conditions like those pictured above in their improvement of Hunters Brook, a tributary of the Escanaba River, in June and July. Log jams had caused silting of the streambed and prevented free trout passage in the stream. (Conservation Department Photos)

THIS IS THE SAME SCENE as the one on the left after stream improvement work had opened Hunters Brook to free flowage. The log jam has not been removed completely, but the stream has been opened so that it is free flowing and the silt can be washed from its bedrock and gravel beds, and its temperature lowered by the end of shallow ponding behind log obstructions.

County Studies Infirmary Needs

The Planning Commission of the Delta County Board of Supervisors meeting Wednesday night at the county building asked welfare data on need for infirmary facilities here and indicated it would ask the Michigan Department of Public Health to extend the time for rehabilitation of the Delta County Nursing Home. The county owns the building but leases it for operation.

The meeting was called by Chairman Frank Stupak of Gladstone because of the public concern over the closing of the former county infirmary, which has 47 patients. The number is now down to about 25 because of the state action closing the home Oct. 1 unless it conforms to state fire safety standards.

Stupak said that the Planning Commission members conferring included Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe and Supervisors Charles Sedenquist, Mike LaPine, Clarence Dittrich, Grey Knaus and Jerome Stannard. They met with Thomas McDermott, county welfare director, and with Edward Murphy and Leslie Caswell of the County Welfare Board.

"We discussed the possibilities of the medicenter planned by Dr. Fitch and Dr. Hockstad's group alleviating the county's infirmary problem and it was generally agreed that if they go ahead it will be wonderful and will care for most of the county's needs. There would be some difficulties but such patients could be placed in private homes.

"Tom McDermott says that there are about 200 persons in the county who need Medicare, Medicaid and nursing home care. If the doctors go ahead with their plans for a medicenter (extended care facility near Doctors' Park) to care for 64 to 128 patients it would settle the problem. There will be a firm decision by Aug. 18. (After the Willow Creek Developers, Inc., confer with Medicenters for America, Inc., and local development agencies.)

"Regardless of what happens, no one is going to be chased out of the Delta County Nursing Home. We'll have a definite program by Sept. 1 or will ask the state to give an extension (of license) to the Delta Nursing Home. I don't think, though, that the state is going to certify the home unless there is some action.

"We recognize the need for medicenters to attract the $16 a day government payments for care of patients who need nursing services, but some of the elderly need only housing and this can be provided in private homes.

"We have had an indirect offer from a private group interested in the former county infirmary (now the Delta Nursing Home) and they want to know just what the state would demand for full certification. We've heard it needs an elevator, wider doors, a sprinkling system, rewiring and some fireproofing."

Stupak said that Delta County wants to get out of the nursing home business but cannot abandon concern for the elderly. He said that he thought their housing would be assured of adequacy by supervision of the welfare department dispensing state and federal funds.

Stupak said that there was need for coordination of information on the problem and that it could best be done through the Delta County Planning Commission of the Board of Supervisors. He said definite action by the county waited upon decision about the Medicenter project and data on county needs from McDermott.

Big Mac's Debt

The Michigan Legislature has made a couple more passes at refinancing the Mackinac Bridge and reducing the tolls.

The House raised the ante on the interest which the state would pay in refinancing the bridge bonds from 3.25 per cent to 3.5 per cent.

Nothing is likely to happen quickly as a result of this action. The current bonds pay 4 to 5 per cent interest and if they were called for refinancing the state would have to pay a $5 million premium.

The refinancing would extend the debt to 1997 while the current toll payment of the bonds would retire them in 1983. The tolls have accumulated a reserve for payment of $10 million which is earning 4 to 5 per cent interest, or $500,000 a year, and this would have to be given up under the refinancing.

So there are some serious considerations in the proposal to transfer the debt for the bridge from the users to the taxpayers of Michigan so the bridge toll can be reduced or eliminated.

* * *

While the state of the bond market makes action on the permissive legislation still unlikely, the fact of interest rate increase denotes a rising public interest in the bridge and what seems to be a growing acceptance of the concept that a toll bridge is unfair to the Upper Peninsula. Nowhere else in Michigan — which has spent billions on its highway system — is it necessary to pay a toll to use a bridge on a state highway.

So it seems not likely that there may be a refinancing of the bridge before the current bonding contract is retired by tolls collected from bridge users. The tolls — raised twice when revenues dipped — are increasingly unpopular, but they were the only means by which the bridge could be built in 1953-57 and the bridge is still a bargain compared with the State Highway Department ferries which it replaced.

* * *

What toll foes are using now is hindsight, but we're stuck with the best contract which could be written at the time for financing the bridge. The general obligation base for bonding was denied by the state before the building. It wanted the bridge to establish that it could pay its own way. It has done that since then, but the Legislature dallied when the bond market favored refinancing and so refinancing is still only a conversation piece.

That $5 million premium for calling the bonds before maturity is also an impediment to enthusiasm. Meanwhile the years roll by, the talk of "segregation" of the Upper Peninsula by a toll bridge increases, and the about the bridge tolls. People never used to mention debt retirement period diminishes.

There has been a human reaction to all the yak them. Now quite a few complain and undoubtedly others don't cross the bridge who might if its tolls had not been so adversely well publicized.

* * *

The second pass at toll reduction got caught in adjournment of the Legislation on Aug. 3. Backers of a $62 million package of bills to raise gas and weight taxes and to lower tolls on the Mackinac Bridge couldn't beat the clock and the "Good Roads" program sought by representatives at all levels of government, the transportation industry and by road builders as necessary for the future growth of the state's highway system lost for another year.

A House amendment to the bill would have taken $6 million in new gas tax revenues to be used in lowering the tolls from $3.75 to $1. It meant adding a quarter cent to the gas tax. This levy raises about $8 million a year, with $6 million needed for the toll reduction and the other $2 million as bait for the road people to support the toll reduction. The road people didn't buy it; they need all they can get for new highway construction and aren't anxious to buy old debts, and, anyway, they lost their whole package in adjournment.

* * *

Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) said he'll ask Gov. Romney to include the "Good Roads" package in the call for a special session of the Legislature in October planned primarily for reorganization of the lower courts. "Michigan needs this additional revenue for our highway system and the Upper Peninsula needs this refinancing of the bridge to remain competitive," said Varnum.

The choice of language is a bit loose. When did we become "competitive?"

Viet Youths Shift

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Many young men and women in South Vietnam have of late decided that parades, protest marches and demonstrations aren't the most effective way to get better government.

Groups representing thousands of young people met recently in Saigon and decided "it is no longer useful for the youth of Vietnam to take to the streets to shout cheers or boos or to foster ineffective criticism."

Instead, these youth decided to get into the coming presidential and legislative political campaigns.

Teams of these young people will go to the thousands of South Vietnam's hamlets to explain the election laws. They'll explain to people exactly how the polls work. They'll aim to stir discussions that will get people to the polls. They'll make certain that the people know their voting rights and that all candidates' rights are not shaded.

Youth units in each province will arrange for candidate debates so that the villagers will hear "both sides" of the issues.

In the weeks before the election, youth "watchdog" teams will try to discover and expose any shady deals or "undue pressure" tactics carried out to influence the voters.

On election day, these same watchdog teams will check the polls to make certain the men running the voting places do an honest job.

The movement is likely to set off some fireworks if there are generals unwilling to accept the results of the elections.

If some generals attempt to nullify the elections and attempt to take over illegally the powers of the men elected to the presidency and the South Vietnam legislature, it is unlikely that the young people who will have pushed so hard for honest and open elections would stand still. A continued rule by a military junta would thus meet opposition among these organized youths.

The ability and willingness of young Vietnamese to stand up against pressure showed up in the meetings of the assemblymen elected to write South Vietnam's new constitution. On a number of occasion, these assemblymen disagreed with views of the military junta. On these occasions, the assemblymen did not bow to the military's wishes. They stood firm and achieved their objectives. One can quarrel with parts of the new constitution, but it was not written by the military.

They've decided, instead, that what's needed is for them, the youth, to become workers in a positive program to get better elections and better government. They're going to take part in the tough, monotonous, undramatic tasks of precinct work and getting out the vote. This isn't going to get them the headlines or television coverage that a riot or sit-in would provide.

It's a very healthy sign.

"Woodsman, Spare that Tree!"

Randall's Career Never Dropped U.P.

By KENNETH LOWE
Of Panax Newspapers

When the Pontiac docked in Marquette that summer day in 1910 it numbered among its passengers a young man who had just completed his sophomore year at Harvard University. His destination was Ishpeming, where he had been promised summer employment in an engineering gang.

But when his prospective employer saw him — all 100 pounds of him — he decided the young man was too small for work on the engineering gang. The youth's uncle, attorney William P. Belden of Ishpeming, who had arranged for the summer job, took him into his law office as an office boy instead.

Neither Belden nor the youth himself knew then that this was the first step in a long journey that would lead Clarence B. Randell to the heights of the American business world.

Clarence B. Randall

Dies In Ishpeming

Randall immediately fell in love with Ishpeming. He returned every summer until he graduated from Harvard Law School in 1915, and then he moved to Ishpeming to join Cousin Will in the practice of law. He remained in Ishpeming until 1925, except for two years when he served in the U.S. Army in France during World War I.

And on Aug. 4 he died in Ishpeming at the age of 76 after having been stricken with a heart attack at his cottage on his beloved Lake Michigamme. Although he was born in Newark Valley, N.Y., and lived in Winnetka, Ill., at the time of his death, Clarence Randall always considered Ishpeming "my favorite small city."

Some of the happiest years of his life were spent there. Of his days in Ishpeming, he later recalled: "I was interlocutor in minstrel shows, taught Sunday school, supplied in pulpits when ministers were sick, made commencement addresses, taught the local belles to do the Castle Walk and the Boston, took tickets at the golf club dances.

Weds Marquette Girl

On one occassion he left Ishpeming to attend a garden party in Marquette where a play was being presented. In the cast was a very pretty young woman, Miss Emily Fitch Phelps. Just before Randall was sent to France, she became his wife.

When he returned from the war, his cousin had moved to Cleveland to serve the Mather interests, "taking the big-money part of his law practice with him and leaving the local remnant to the new firm of (Fred) Berg and (Tom) Clancey," which thereupon became Berg, Clancey and Randall.

Randall left Ishpeming in 1925 to become assistant vice president or Inland Steel Co. and, eventually, its president and chairman of the board.

Not content with being the chief executive officer of one of the world's largest steel firms, Randall devoted much time to writing and speaking.

Writes On Economics

Much of his writing championed the cause of free enterprise, as in his books "Freedom's Faith" and "A Creed for Free Enterprise." One of his tenets was that businessmen should accept positions of leadership in their communities just as they accept leadership in the business world. He personally lived up to this conviction not only by serving on the Winnetka School Board but also by serving no less than four Presidents of the United States in special assignments.

Although his service to the federal government began as consultant to the Marshall Plan in 1948 under appointment by President Harry S. Truman, Randall's finest hour perhaps was when he publicly stood up against Truman after the President had seized the steel industry in 1952, following a strike of the United Steelworkers. At the request of the steel industry, Randall undertook to reply to the President over combined national radio and television facilities. His address, titled "These Are the Facts, Mr. President," accused Truman of making false statements regarding the steel industry and was heard by one of the largest audiences ever to hear a civilian.

Gifted Speaker

Randall was a gifted speaker, as anyone can attest who heard him deliver his memorable address (without notes, as always) in the Masonic Temple in Marquette on the occasion of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., centennial dinner in 1950. (His last public address here was a lecture delivered at Northern Michigan University in 1961.)

It is no wonder that he was in high demand as a speaker. "As life has gone along for me," he once said, "I have managed to achieve the counterpart of a circus life, for I have barnstormed the length and breadth of the country, lifting that same loud voice on behalf of a wide variety of issues. An unusual amount of public speaking has fallen to my lot. Over the years, I have faced audiences, large and small, that ranged all the way from the annual banquet of the National Association of Manufacturers to the Women's Garden Club of Lake Forest, or from commencement at Harvard to the graduating exercises at the high school at Michigamme, Mich."

The eloquent voice, now stilled, will be sadly missed from Ishpeming and Michigamme to the nation's capital.

Waterfront Arts

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — Artists and craftsmen from the Midwest will exhibit their paintings and wares at the 9th annual Waterfront Arts Fair Saturday along the shores of Round Lake.

Letters To The Press

LIQUOR

So far the estimated toll for the property destroyed by the riots in Detroit is $350 million or more. Death, injuries and the uncertain future for the area cannot be computed by dollar values. These situations were triggered by a police raid on an "after-hours" and unlicensed drinking place.

Robert Hammond and the "blue-nose" organization he represents (Michigan Temperance Foundation) should take great pride in being directly responsible for these conditions.

The people of the United States, by legitimate voting processes, repealed a restrictive constitutional amendment —The Volstead Act.

By constantly harassing legislators with threats of reprisal at the polls, the WCTU has been gradually imposing more and more prohibition on the populace.

The liquor industry has shown it is capable of policing its own business. In nearly every instance the representatives of major distilleries are the highest caliber business men. The retail merchants and tavern owners are carefully selected by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

The "Drys" may think they have won a victory by lobbying the defeat of the Sunday Liquor Law in this year's session of the Legislature; but, have they? Is what happened in Detroit worth this type of victory?

When will people learn that they cannot impose their personal beliefs and consciences on all citizens? When will organizations such as the WCTU learn that total revolt is the result of someone constantly nibbling at the freedoms of the expressed majority?

have several ways to explain it. You can be frank and admit to a brainstorm or even a blackout. You can explain that you made an error in judgment or even that you took a wrong view.

We rather favor admitting the error and concentrating on not making it again.

South had a mighty sound notrump opening and was fully justified in going to game after North used the Stayman two-club bid and then went to two no-trump. West opened the three of hearts and dummy's jack held the trick. The king of clubs was played from dummy and some 10 mintues later South had gone down two tricks. He might have saved one from the wreckage but once he went wrong in clubs he was doomed to defeat.

South complained about bad luck and conceded that he had taken a wrong view. Actually, he had made a mistake.

His only worry was if one opponent held three clubs. He didn't know anything about their distribution except that it looked as if West had opened a fourth best heart. The chances were, therefore, that West did not have a five-card suit. If he did not have a five-card suit he couldn't be void of any other suit. Therefore, West had at least one club and South should have led a club toward his act.

Doesn't anyone ever lead fifth or even sixth best? Of course they do but not as often as they lead fourth best.

We do sympathize somewhat with South. We would sympathize a lot more if he had realized that he had gone against percentage and resolved to be more careful in the future.

Strike Cuts Allied Paper's Earnings

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A decline in earnings for the first half of 1967 at Allied Paper Corp. was attributed to a five-week strike at 3 of the firm's mills, company officials said. Dear Ann Landers: You probably know as much about human nature as almost anybody in the world. I am no Ann Landers but I, too, have a front row seat to what goes on in people's lives. I run a coin laundry.

First, let me tell you I am a man. People call me an extravert. My wife says I have a big mouth and no tact. I am writing because I want to pin a rose on every hard working wife who never thinks of herself as a heroine. Believe me, she really is.

Night after night I see women come in here carrying big bundles of laundry. Sometimes they are pregnant. "Where's your hubby? I ask them, and the answers are always the same. "At the ball game," or "Asleep in front of the TV" or "He had to go out some place."

Before I got into the laundry business I used to think that a man who held a steady job had a right to sit on his duff when he got home at night but I have changed my tune. These women who haul in the bundles of laundry have also been working all day.

Please print this letter. It won't perform any miracles so far as the lazy husbands are concerned, but it might make the wives feel better. —FLORIDA READER

Dear Florida: Here's the letter and, like you, I don't expect any miracles either, but it should make the wives feel better — and I hope it does.

Dear Ann Landers: I am in bad trouble. I saw an article in a store that I wanted. It cost 75 cents. Dad said I didn't need it, so I took it when the clerk wasn't looking. I knew it was wrong. I shouldn't have taken it. But I did and now I am in a real jam.

I showed the article to my brother and that was a big mistake. He says I have to let him have his way all the time now or he will tell my dad about the article I stole.

Please help me out of this and I will never take anything that doesn't belong to me as long as I live —WORRIED STIFF

Dear Stiff: Go to your father and confess. Ask him how you can earn 75 cents to pay for the article. Then take the money to the store, tell the clerk what you did, pay for the article and let this be a lesson to you. And you can tell your brother that a blackmailer is as bad a thief and he should reform, too.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 22 (old enough to know better), and I made a big mistake. I was going with a wonderful young man who had two more years to finish professional school. I told him I'd wait.

Just as we were about to announcement our engagement I had some girl-talks with my sorority sisters and they said the fellow was nice but he was "funny looking" and I'd be ashamed of his looks as the years went on. Like a fool I broke off with him.

That was four months ago and now I am eating my heart out. The handsome Jacks are nothing compared with my old flame and I want him back. Any advice? —FOOLISH GIRL

Dear Fool: Run, don't walk, to the nearest phone. Call the old flame and level with him. If he hasn't replaced you with a dame who has a full set of brains consider yourself plenty lucky. I'll keep my fingers crossed, Buttercup.

MARY LOU PALMER, the U. P. Farm Bureau queen, is among candidates for the U. P. State Fair queen title. She is 16, is a junior at Stephenson High School, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer of Stephenson Rte. 1. The Farm Bureau is her sponsor.

Offer To Trade Son Swells Into National Effort

EAST LANSING (AP) — An effort to trade their 14-year-old son for another teen-ager has ballooned into a nationwide youth exchange program for Mr. and Mrs. Jules Williams of East Lansing.

It wasn't planned that way. Mr. and Mrs. Williams merely placed a small ad in the Humanist magazine offering to swap their son Brian for another family's teen-age son or daughter for a year.

In the past week, the family has been flooded with scores of replies to the ad — so many the parents decided to start a clearing agency, the American Youth Exchange, to arrange similar trades for other teen-agers and their families.

The Williamses also are going to appear Aug. 22 on the national television show, "To Tell the Truth."

"We weren't trying to get rid of Brian. He's not rowdy or dissatisfied," said Mrs. Williams. "He's come to take this community's advantages for granted. Having him live with another family in another community will help him become aware of the opportunities available."

Hometown "A Drag"

Brian, a bright, moptop six-footer who considers East Lansing "a drag," is "very enthusiastic" about being traded, said his father. Tentative arrangements for a trade have been made with a family in California.

Brian's brother Don, 17, and sister Alice, 7, also are eager to meet the teen-ager who will take Brian's place for a year. Another brother, Roger, 19, is attending Antioch College.

The Williamses said they are trying to arrange as many other trades as they can before school starts next month.

To Broaden Kids

It's difficult, Mrs. Williams said, because they are new at arranging such exchanges and in addition are moving to Yellow Springs, Ohio, at the end of August.

The exchanges are patterned after foreign student exchange programs, said Mrs. Williams. The idea is "a sincere effort to give youngsters a broader educational experience.

"A small-town youngster might go to live with a family in a big city, and vice versa," said Mrs. Williams.

She and her husband are presently preparing application forms and letters of introduction for their new program. A woman in California who runs a mimeographing business has offered her services.

Started With Ad

The ad that started it all said: "Teen-ager to trade. Have a 14-year-old boy who wants to try different environment. Would like to trade for teen-age boy or girl for one year. References exchanged."

It appeared in the July-August issue of the Humanist. The replies began pouring in by letter and phone after news stories were published around the nation about the family's trading effort.

"If I had known all this was coming," said Mrs. Williams, "I would have put the ad in earlier."

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — City of Jacksonville and Duval County voters have overwhelmingly appproved consolidating their two local governments.

The new Jacksonville, approved 52,585 to 28,872, will become Florida's largest city when the charter goes into effect Oct. 1, 1968.

The addition of some 300,000 residents from suburban areas affected by the vote, will boost the city's population to more than 450,000.

Kansas Convict Singers On Tour

LANSING, Kan. (AP) — Two dozen convicts will get out of the Kansas penitentiary for two weeks in October.

Under auspices of the Kansas Junior Chamber of Commerce, the prison choir will tour the state by bus and give three performances a day at high schools.

Between numbers, some of the singers will tell the youngsters how not to get where they got.

The itinerary is being set up so each day's final concert will be in a town which has a jail large enough for the choir.

Fishermen Ask For Lake Fishery Role

By TOM FELDHAUSEN

MUNISING — Commercial fishing on Lake Superior will end if the Conservation Department eliminates gill net fishing on Lakes Michigan and Superior. This is the assessment of Munising commercial fishermen. They feel the Conservation Department has made the recommendation to ban gill nets on the premise that commercial fishermen will still be able to ply their trade with the use of pound or trap nets.

The only problem, according to the Lake Superior commercial fishermen, is that this type net cannot be used successfully on Lake Superior. These nets have to be set in protected areas, with a sand bottom, or at the least, a gentle slope of beach. Lake Superior has few areas that are adaptable to this type net, because of the rocky beaches and sharp drops.

Even if a pound net could be used, it would cause concern among sports fishermen. A pound net is set by running a leader net of about 600 to 1,000 feet from shore, which makes the fish swim out to the trap.

Most sports fishermen prefer to troll in shallow areas, and if pound nets were to be used, these shallow areas would be utilized for pound nets.

Little Competition

Today with gill nets, which are fished in deep water, there is little competition between the sports fishermen and the commercial fishermen. Even if Superior had sandy beaches like Lake Michigan the fishermen doesn't have the money to purchase the necessary nets. A single pound net with the necessary rigging is about $5,000.

An analysis of the present status and future potential of the Lake Superior commercial fishing industry, prepared under the direction of the U. S. Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, points out that gill net fishing is by far the most important method of taking fish from Lake Superior. Over 90 per cent of the landed catch from Lake Superior is taken with gill nets.

The study also points out the biological characteristics of the lake are such that the lake cannot sustain a greatly expanded total yield of all species. Commercial fishing as it now stands is a dying industry. The average age of commercial fishermen is 55. It is more often than not a family industry and few others have the capital to finance a venture into commercial fishing.

Tugs Disappear

Munising, just after World War II, had 12 fish tugs operating from her beaches, now there are 5, and this is the story all the way up and down the lakes. The Conservation Department claims that gill nets catch an intolerably high rate of salmon and trout. Some estimates by the department range as high as 40 per cent. Records kept by the department of commercial catches indicate the figure is more like 9.1 per cent on Northern Lake Michigan.

This summer there are indications that the larger lake trout and coho salmon have been feeding on fish planted in the lake by the U. S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and the Conservation Department.

About one-eighth of the residents in Michigan are licensed fishermen. Roy Jensen of Escanaba, executive secretary of the Michigan Fish Producers Association, wants to know, "What about the other 7 million people."

Restaurants are against the Conservation Department's proposal. Typical of their reaction is "About 50 per cent of my restaurant's daily food output is Lake Superior fish, where am I going to get it?" Another said, "Even now the assessment fishing alone has hurt my business."

Room For Sport

Michigan sports fishermen have 11,000 inland lakes, numerous rivers, and many thousands of shoreline from which to fish. The Conservation Department claims that the coho and trout could feed on the alewives that caused such a mess on Lake Michigan beaches this summer. It would take a good many years for these fish to clean up the alewives. Then, besides the dieoff of alewives, things would be worsened with the dieoff of salmon adding to the present problem. The federal government is trying to promote an alewife fishing industry with these fish to be used for animal food and fish flour, or fish concentrate.

One would tend to believe the commercial fishermen has been wholly responsible for the depletion of the trout from the lakes. The Department of Interior study points out the sea lamprey invaded Lake Superior and nearly eliminated lake trout and whitefish. Now, coincidental with planting of trout and salmon and almost eradication of the lamprey, is the comeback of the lake trout. All this time gill net fishing has continued, but it is now the goat.

Protest Speed

Michigan commercial fishermen are alarmed at the speed with which this issue is being handled. They have had no opportunity to get their side to the public. The Conservation Department says that the increase in sports trolling will make up the financial loss suffered by the commercial fishermen. This is hardly likely. On a good summer, a charter boat on Lake Superior could make about 50 trips. This amounts to about $2,500; not much to support a family. If gill nets are eliminated on the lakes, there is no question in the minds of commercial fishermen that commercial fishing on the lakes will die. Sports trollers could never harvest the fish in the lakes.

Should Michigan fishermen not be able to fish commercially when there is no idea what Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, or Canada are planning? A fish has fins, and can swim anywhere. Lake Superior is a large lake, too big for limitation to sports trolling. Commercial fishermen feel there is room for both. There has been in the past, and there is not one reason to believe they still can't.

Editorial

The accompanying article was written by Tom Feldhusen, news director of WGON, Munising, for the commercial fishermen of the Munising area to present their objections to the Conservation Department's proposal to ban the use of gill nets in Great Lakes waters.

Action on the proposal is planned this week.

Our commercial lake fishermen are in a sick industry. The state and federal governments are in process of spending millions of dollars on the restoration of the fishery, which has been overfished, polluted and ravaged by predators like the lampreys and now sickened by population explosion of the trash fish, alewife.

State fish biologists say their expensive public efforts to restore the lakes to production of good fish species cannot succeed if there is not a managed fishery to protect the planted fish and bring them to maturity.

They say the kill of hatchery reared trout in Lake Michigan by gill nets set for whitefish exceeds tolerance and that the gill net must go if the fishery is to be restored.

Commercial fishermen say there's room for both the sports fisherman and commercial fisherman in the lakes.

The Conservation Department position is that the restored lake fishery will be first a sports fishery, because that is the greatest economic use of the resource, and only secondarily a commercial fishery. The state plan is not to divide the fishery between the competing forces but to give the sportsmen the priority and the commercial fishermen the clean-up role under a plan of limited entry commercial fishing.

Serves Aboard Navy Destroyer

Boilerman Houle

Boilerman Third Class Roger S. Houle, USN, son of Mrs. Marion Houle of 924 N. 18th St., Escanaba, a 1963 graduate of Escanaba Public High School, is among 400 officers and men aboard the guided missile-armed destroyer leader USS Wainwright.

The Wainwright, in Vietnam since early June of this year, is patrolling "Yankee Station" in the Gulf of Tonkin off the coast of North Vietnam as part of Attack Carrier Task Force 77.

Her job is three-fold. She monitors all communications into and out of the tense Gulf area, provides advance warning to carriers and other ships of impending enemy air attacks, and, with her helicopter flight deck in the after part of the ship, serves as a platform for search and rescue choppers to use in their quick rescue of downed pilots.

Boilerman Houle works in one of the two Wainwright firerooms beside boilers which provide steam, the very life of the Wainwright. His responsibility is to see that steam is ready all the time. He measures the fuel oil flowing into the boilers. With dials, knobs, buttons and switches, he turns it on at just the right moment, and snaps it off again. He checks the purity of the oil.

Amid the heat of the steamy Gulf, and the temepratures of a fireroom in which boilers steam at 950 degrees F at a pressure of 1,200 pounds, the perspiration runs off him freely.

"The premiums are our hard work and prolonged separation from home, but the dividend is continued freedom of our own country," he said.

March Of Dimes Collects $76,807

Emily Swanson, field representative of the March of Dimes, reports that the 15 Upper Peninsula counties raised $76,807.95 in their annual campaign, an increase of $9,500 over the previous year.

The audited expenses amounted to $10,877.33, or a percentage of fund raising cost of .1416.

For the period from 1950 to 1967 the total receipts of the March of Dimes in the U. P. amounted to $133,181.28, while fund raising cost $17,486.53, or .1313 per cent. (Most licensing agencies and commissions figure 20 per cent a reasonable cost for fund raising).

About 80 per cent of all money raised for the March of Dimes in Delta County, said Miss Swanson, has remained in the county to care for polio and birth defects cases.

The March of Dimes is another name of the National Foundation, which conducts medical scientific research, professional education and medical care in the field of polio and birth defects.

Ford Locals To Vote On Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Some 154,000 auto workers at Ford Motor Co., and 750,000 at General Motors will be voting the week of Aug. 20 on whether to authorize a strike to win contract demands.

In an unexpected move, Ken Bannon, head of the Ford department of the United Auto Workers (AFL-CIO), Wednesday asked local union leaders to conduct the strike vote.

Union officials had said Tuesday they would probably wait until they saw Ford's money offer later this month before ordering a strike vote.

The call for a vote followed a similar move by the leadership of the union's General Motors department Tuesday.

In another development Wednesday, the UAW's Ford and Chrysler national negotiating committee asked leaders of a dissident group of skilled tradesmen to cancel a demonstration planned for Aug. 23 to emphasize the skilled workers demands for a wage hike substantially above any general wage increase carried by new contracts.

He had resided in Garden for several years and had been a patient in the hospital for only a few days before his death.

Probe 7 Negro Deaths In Riot

DETROIT (AP)—Deaths of at least seven Negroes killed by gunfire in the Detroit riot were being probed today under a widening circle of investigations by federal and local agencies.

Officials disclosed Wednesday that facts are being sought in the separate slayings of four Negroes. In each case, witnesses said the victim was shot by uniformed officers.

The probes came on the heels of a continuing investigation into the shotgun killings of three Negro youths in a midtown motel annex. Murder charges in two of these deaths have been filed against two white Detroit policemen.

Additionally, two Negroes have been charged with killing a policeman during the riot that erupted July 23 and lasted for a week. In all, 43 persons were killed or fatally injured during the riot.

Latest deaths under scrutiny were those of Albert Robinson, 38; William N. Dalton, 19; John LeRoy, 19, and Henry Denson, 27.

Two persons were reported by a Detroit attorney to have stated they saw Robinson kicked and bayoneted by a National Guardsman after Robinson had been shot. A police report said Robinson was shot as a sniper trying to escape from a building. Robinson died last Saturday in a hospital.

A number of persons told The Detroit News they saw a policeman kill Dalton after ordering the youth to run away from the officer.

Homicide Inspector Albert Schwaller of Detroit Police said both police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation were looking into Leroy's death. He was shot at a National Guard roadblock.

Propose Tax Relief To AMC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Wisconsin Democrats Wednesday introduced a bill which would provide immediate tax relief for the financially ailing American Motors Corp.

Sens. Gaylord A. Nelson and William Proxmire introduced the bill in the Senate. A companion measure was introduced in the House by Rep. Henry S. Reuss.

The proposed legislation would change the manner in which American Motors can apply its loses of the past year against its profits. At present, the company must wait two years to do this. The Wisconsin congressional delegates propose the company be permitted to claim an immediate tax refund which, they say, would amount to about $20 million.

Nelson said the move would not cost the taxpayers money. He said the refund would be availiable in due course anyway, and could be applied for by any company taking over the auto manufacturing company.

Noting that American Motors has shown losses of some $47 million since last fall, Nelson said the bill would provide immediate assistance to a firm which is in "severe economic difficulties."

He also said it would help enable American Motors to continue as an "independent competitive element in the automobile industry."

Erickson, accompanied by Attorney James White, flew to Marquette for an emergency meeting with teacher leaders of U. P. school districts where negotiations have not been completed.

The emergency meeting dealt with a review of a previous meeting with Governor Romney on the situation, and MEA plans for direct assistance to local units. Attorney White was present to advise teacher leaders of their legal rights regarding the current situation.

Erickson indicated the first impact of unsettled negotiations may be felt in the athletic programs where no preschool practice sessions will result in cancelled athletic events.

Bethany Youth To Sponsor 'Parable'

August 15-20th, Bethany Lutheran Church Youth, with the support of the Church Council, will sponsor the showing of "The Parable." The movie was a source of considerable controversy at the New York City Pavilion sponsored by the Council of Churches in 1964. From that showing, a commercial (16mm) film was made, and this movie has been shown to groups throughout the nation. Not only was the movie a source of controversy at the Fair, but its story became a topic of discussion and debate for groups of all ages and sizes.

Because of the value of the challenge offered by this movie, the Bethany Youth have decided to sponsor its showing for the general public. In order to help finance this project, the Bethany Youth, with members of the church assisting, sponsored a bake sale during Sidewalk Days. This effort made possible a good portion of the financing.

All persons are invited to attend the showing. A box for a free-will offering will be available for persons who wish to support the Youth by helping them to complete the financing of the movie. There will be no admission charge. The movie will be shown four times daily: 2:00, 4:00, 7:00, 8:30 p. m.

No-Bake Blueberry Pie Perfect For Fair Week

With a busy Fair week coming up, its nice to have something simple and deliciously sweet in the refrigerator. This recipe of no-bake Blueberry Lemon pie is so tempting Dad and the kids will love it!

With fresh blueberries in season, it's a pleasant sight to see those pint boxes bursting with plump juicy berries. Hard to keep one's hands out of them. But why try? There's only 84 calories in a whole cupful of blueberries. And so much Vitamin A and food energy.

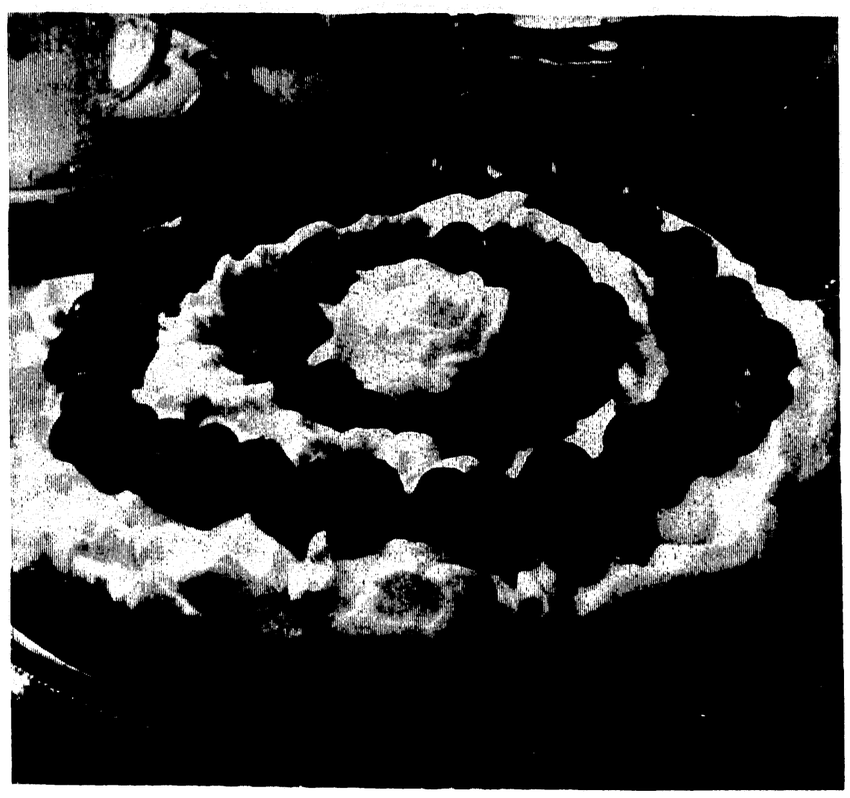

Then, once in a while, how inviting it is to see a beautiful blueberry pie in the refrigerator. Here is one that is literally "made" there, since it is not baked but chilled. An elegant dessert to prepare on the hottest day, it takes only minutes to put together.

Yet how quickly it can come out of the kitchen onto the table. It disappears pretty fast, too. No wonder. Everybody loves blueberries and this pie has them inside and out.

No-Bake Blueberry Lemon Pie

24 vanilla wafers
1 package (4 oz.) lemon pie filling
2 egg yolks
⅓ cup sugar
2 cups water
2 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
2 cups fresh blueberries, rinsed and drained
1 cup heavy cream

Use wafers to line the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan. Prepare pie filling according to package directions using egg yolks, sugar and water. Cover and cool to room temperature. Beat egg whites until stiff. Gradually beat in ¼ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time. Fold egg whites and half of the blueberries into lemon filling. Pour into lined pie pan. Chill for several hours or until firm. Whip cream until stiff and sweeten with confectioners' sugar if desired. Spoon cream in circles on top of pie. Spoon remaining blueberries between cream circles. Chill until ready to serve. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

EVEN IN SUMMER'S HEAT a cup of hot coffee goes good, especially when it goes with a chilled no-bake Blueberry Lemon Pie.

Boys Express Definite Views About Styles

The myth that boys don't care about clothes has been exploded for all time. They do care, and they have definite views. In fact, when they reach their late teens, they become sharp dressers, as any parent can attest.

But what do younger boys really like to wear? A quick survey of some members of Boys' Clubs of America gives insight into their personal tastes.

First of all, among the 750,000 members of this fine youth group, the trend can almost be gauged by age. The younger members — up to about 12 — want sturdy, washable clothes with lots of color in shirts. The up-to-sixteeners want school clothes featuring slacks and lots of color in the shirts, plus dungarees for after-school fun at their Club.

Above that age, the vote is for three different outfits: one for school, one for Boys' Club, and the sharp one for dating —with lots of color in shirts and neckties.

The boys emphasize washable clothes in their preferred list. There is a very simple reason for this: "You can fool around or wrestle on tht floor, and if your clothes get dirty your Mom won't get so mad if they can go into the washing machine."

Colors seem to be of major importance — especially in shirts. The colors most favored are of the firehouse variety — reds, oranges, bright greens and blues.

Pastor Directs Dialogue Center

The Rev. Don E. Olson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Olson, who resided at 11 S. 7th St., Gladstone, is serving as the executive director of the Center for Dialogue in Miami, Fla.

The project is an experimental ministry initiated in the area and is an inter-faith attempt to provide dialogue between various groups of different backgrounds, racial, cultural and religious. People from the churches, Roman Catholic and Protestant, enter into discussion and attempt to develop communication between Negro and White leaders and it is the hope that Christian leadership will help solve some of the problems of the changing urban area.

The Center is in St. Johns Lutheran Church, in a former all-white middle class neighborhood. It is now predominately Cuban and Negro, 25 per cent of the Miami population being Negro and 20 per cent Spanish speaking or Cuban. Pastor Olson reported a very tense situation in the area at present with many of the store windows boarded up.

At the Center counseling service is provided for former mental patients, those recently divorced and sub-cultural groups. A tutoring program for children is provided by volunteers from different churches.

Pastor Olson receives his support from the Board of American Missions, Lutheran Church in America. He is a graduate of Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn., and Augustana Seminary, Rock Island, Ill., and was ordained in 1962. Te has served in the Miami area since his ordination.

At the present time he and his wife and two sons, Brian and Kevin are visiting with friends and relatives in the Gladstone area.

N.Y. Democrat Admits Keeping Testimonial Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y., said Wednesday he kept for his personal use the $11,000 that was raised at a 1965 testimonial dinner in his honor.

But there was nothing improper about the dinner and "I've done nothing wrong," the 51-year-old Buffalo Congressman told newsmen in response to a Wall Street Journal story reporting the affair.

The article noted that many of the contributors to the Sept. 9, 1965, testimonial at Buffalo were leaders of postal unions, lobbyists, and big-volume mailers.

Dulski—now chairman of the House Post Office Committee—was the third-ranking Democrat on the committee at the time.

Dulski closeted himself in his office for several hours today while his committee met next door, as scheduled, to review drafts of a subcommittee postal rates bill.

When he emerged he made the following statement:

"In September 1965, my friends gave a personal testimonial dinner at Buffalo, N.Y., for me, my wife, and our five children.

"It was a public affair, printed in the press, and about 300 friends attended.

"It was meant as a personal tribute . . and not as a political campaign dinner.

"My friends generously raised about $11,000 as a gift for me and my wife. We gladly accepted the money to help defray the extra personal burdens a Congressman must meet as related to elected public office for which reimbursement is not possible.

"In my eight and one-half years in Congress this was the only, and only, dinner on our behalf.

"Mrs. Dulski and I felt it was entirely in keeping with the accepted practices of American political civic life.

"I quote from an article which appeared in the Sept. 10, 1965, issue of the Buffalo Courier Express the morning after the dinner: 'The dinner was in recognition of Dulski's work in behalf of the district and the nation during his three and one-half terms in the House.'

"The invitations and publicity surrounding the dinner made it abundantly clear that it was intended solely as a personal testimonial to Mrs. Dulski and myself."

Tigers Tame Chicago, 4-2

DETROIT (AP)— When Earl Wilson goes to the pitching mound to warm up, he walks halfway around the dirt circle on the first base side and approaches the rubber from the rear like some mystic with a secret formula to success.

"I guess it's just a habit," said the big Detroit Tigers right-hander after whipping the first place Chicago White Sox 4-2 on a slick five-hitter. "I've got to find something to do."

He wouldn't say the practice is superstition and he didn't say the ritual isn't.

But the White Sox were mystified enough so that they left six base runners stranded, including four in key situations in the sixth and eighth innings.

"Earl had good stuff," said Detroit Manager Mayo Smith. "He was a little wild in the middle innings but they didn't hit him hard.

"This was a big game for our club," added Smith. "But tonight's game will be bigger. We have to win tonight if we're going to make any headway."

The victory left Detroit in third place, two games out of first place, behind Boston in the tight American League pennant race.

The Tigers jumped to a quick 2 - 0 lead against rookie White Sox starter Fred Klages, with Al Kaline driving in one run with a secrifice fly and another with his 19th home run.

Wilson was coasting along on a one-hit shutout going into the sixth when he walked pinch-hitter Wayne Causey. Walt Williams, who had three hits, singled to left and Don Buford walked to load the bases.

Smith, who went to the mound with Buford at bat, said: "Wilson was overthrowing, trying too hard. I just wanted to settle him down."

Wilson gave up a run-scoring sacrifice fly to Tom McCraw and then got out of the jam by getting Ken Boyer on a tap to the mound and fanning Pete Ward.

Detroit made it 4-1 with two runs in their half of the sixth off relief pitcher John Buzhardt. Norm Cash's double, a walk, a wild pitch and pinch-hitter Lenny Green's sacrifice fly brought in one run. Another run scored when rookie Sox shortstop Rich Morales fired Williams' relay into the dugout on Green's fly ball.

The White Sox picked up another run in the eighth. With one out, Williams' drive to right center fell between Kaline and Mickey Stanley for a triple and Tommie Agee followed with a single.

"Neither one of them called for the ball," said Smith. "It should have been caught."

Wilson bore down and got McCraw on an infield grounder but Boyer beat out a hit to the mound before Wilson struck out pinch-hitter Smokey Burgess to end the threat.

"Chicago is a tough club to pitch against," said Wilson. "They don't give you much. That sixth inning was tough. A base hit would have ruined me."

Wilson said a strong wind, blowing across the field from left to right, and later towards the pitching mound, bothered him somewhat.

"When the wind is blowing straight at a pitcher, his stuff breaks better," said Wilson. "But when it's blowing across the mound the ball breaks differently. You have to adjust and I lost my rhythm for awhile in the middle innings before I got straightened out."

Detroit will send Joe Sparma against the White Sox tonight in the final game of the series. Chicago planned to pitch knuckleballer Wilbur Wood.

A one-hit pitching performance, the first homerun of the tournament and a 13 strikeout effort highlighted action in the district Class D softball tourney at Memorial Field Wednesday night.

Mark Miller whipped up the one-hit gem, tossing his Mead team to a 8-2 decision over Manistique in the opener.

Pat Groleau slugged the four bagger, helping his Ensign team to an 8-7 decision over Perronville in eight innings.

Veteran Gene Verhamme chalked up the 13 strikeouts on the Gladstone No. 2 mound as his club eliminated Hardwood, 4-2.

Action continues tonight with a pair of key contests. Perkins meets Four Corners in a winner's bracket game at 7 and Trenary takes on Ensign in a loser's bracket tilt with the beaten team bowing out of action. Trenary is the defending district champion.

Class C competition gets underway Friday night with Escanaba Teamsters facing Rapid River in the second game. The first game matches Manistique and Gladstone No. 2 in D action.

The lone hit off Miller was a single by Doug Nelson in the first inning. That sent Ron Provo home with a run and Nelson scored on an error to give Manistique a temporary 2-0 lead.

Mead found the range in the last of the second to score six runs. Key hits were singles by Bob Trombley and Dementer. Manistique pitcher Ron Parkinson granted three walks in the inning.

Miller helped himself with two hits and chalked up four strikeout victims. Dementer also had two hits for Mead.

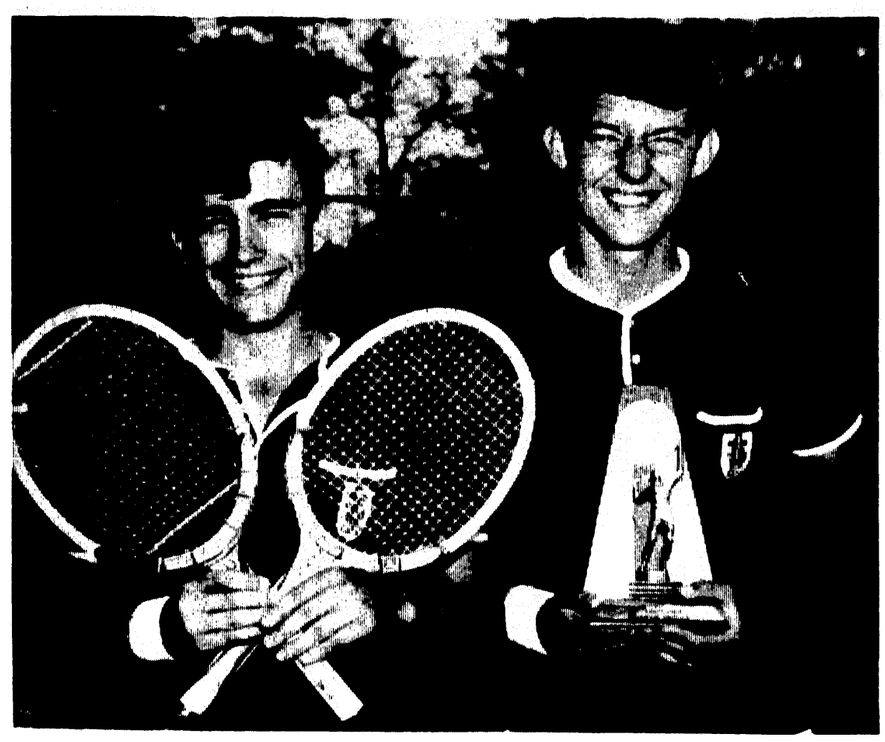

Groleau's homerun came in the last of the seventh and gave Ensign a 6-6 tie with Perronville. Perronville scored a singleton in the top of the eighth and Ensign pushed two runs home in the bottom of the inning to win it. Three straight singles by Mark Nelson, Wayne LaVigne and Dale Morin set the stage for John Wolf's game-winning hit.

Wolf worked the Ensign mound and allowed eight hits. John Petrick pitched for Perronville and gave up 12. Wolf led his mates at the plate with three singles. Petrick had a single and triple and Frank Gaber two singles for the losers.

Verhamme whiffed two of the first three Hardwood batters and had at least one strikeout in every inning. He fanned three in the seventh to choke off a rally as Hardwood plated one run on two singles.

Gladstone paraded three runs home in the first inning and added another in the second, then held on as Hardwood score singletons in the fifth and seventh frames. Three hit-batsmen and a single by Larry Valenick accounted for the first inning damage and Valenick doubled home Dave Cannon for the run in the second.

Verhamme granted five hits and losing pitcher Thorene allowed only three but hit six batters and walked two.

Dave Andrews Second

Canadian Golfer Is Early Leader In U.P. Tourney

IRON MOUNTAIN — Dave Confrey, a Canadian student at Michigan Tech, tamed the tough 18 hole Pine Grove Country Club course with a two under par 70 to take the first round lead in the Upper Peninsula men's golf tournament here Wednesday.

Confrey, 24, was captain of the Michigan Tech golf team last spring.

Dave Andrews, long hitting Escanaba Country Club swatter, was five strokes off the pace in a tie for second place with Jack Hooper of the host club.

Confrey toured the front nine like he owned it yesterday morning, clicking off three straight birdies and matched par the rest of the way for a blistering 33, then came back strong with birds on the 17th and 18th for a back-nine 37.

Andrews carded his 75 on rounds of 39 and 36. A seven on the par four No. 2 hole was his only trouble.

Jack Smith of Highland tied for third with Bill Burrell of Calumet, current U. P. Senior champ, with a 76. Smith turned in rounds of 37 and 39, including a frustrating four-putt green on No. 14.

Defending champion Bill Smith of Sault Ste. Marie and Mike Shanley of Marquette tied for fourth with 77s. Smith shot a 38-39.

It took an 83 or better to make the top 32 cutoff. Those golfers will play 18 holes today with the top 16 remaining in the championship flight. All 72 holes of golf will count in determining the medal play champion when the tournament ends Saturday afternoon.

Iron Mountain won the five man team event with 409 strokes while Escanaba Country Club was runnerup with 415 and Highland third with 419.

Other Country Club golfers and their scores were Dave Erickson 81, Wendell Green 84, Dick Knoll 85, Jim Hirn 90, Gabe Meretsky 104, Ron Koth 106 and Cliff Dawson 95.

Highland scorers in addition to Smith were Dave Friets 81, George Young 81, Lanny Johnston 85 and Conrad Pratt 96.

Dean Roddy of Gladstone carded an 84.

A field of 164 golfers played in cool weather with scattered showers through the day.

A BIG CATCH by a very young fisherman made an exciting experience for Ronold DePas of Wilson, who caught the 28½ inch Northern weighing more than five pounds on the Menominee River west of Carney Sunday afternoon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil DePas of Wilson.

Six Share Low In Golf Event

Sharing low individual honors in the Escanaba Country Club women's tri-club parimutual Wednesday were Lou Berglund, Betty Gauthier, Rosemary LeMire, Rita Sauers, Bev Farrell and Sally Fontaine with 47s.

Marilyn Knoll, Doris Costley, Mary Sue Boyce, Gloria Hansley and Chris Barron shot 48s, Milly Boyce 49, Katy Van Donsel and Marie Wicklander 50s.

First place team was made up of Rosemary LeMire, Babe Johnson, Connie Malnor and Bernice Hannemann. Tied for second were the teams of Betty Gauthier, Shirley Shomin, Lois Ness and Ruth Ivory and Lou Berglund, Virginia Anzalone, Marilyn Knoll and June Baum.

Next year's tri-club event will be held at the Gladstone Golf Club.

Tom, Steve Fisher Pair Up

Defending Titlist, Prep Champions In Net Tourney

Tom Fisher, former Escanaba net star now living in downstate Livonia, will team up with Upper Peninsula High School singles champion Steve Fisher in a bid for the Michigan - Wisconsin Tennis Open doubles championship.

The tournament, sponsored by the city recreation department, will be played here Aug. 12-13.

Tom Fisher and Jim Pe[illegible] of Detroit captured the men's doubles title last year. Peters, who also copped the men's singles crown, will not be competing this year.

Steve Fisher battled his way to the U. P. prep singles championship in Marquette two months ago. The junior-to-be at Holy Name High School is a cousin of Tom.

Steve will also pair up with Steve Houle in the boys doubles competition this year. Houle, who will also be a junior at Holy Name this fall, teamed up with John Way to win the U. P. prep doubles championship in June. Way, however, will be unable to compete in the net event because he is a member of the Esky Cubs baseball team that will be playing in the state American Legion tournament in Lansing this weekend.

Tourney officials announce a heavy advance entry list from lower Michigan and Wisconsin as well as the Upper Peninsula.

Dave Feirer of Oshkosh, last years intermediate boys singles champion, has entered and will pair up with former Escanaban, Scott Scheffler, in the boys doubles competition.

The following local entries are back to defend the titles won in the 1966 N-W tournament: Tom Michaels, novice boys singles; Pat Gayan, novice girls singles; Shirley Neimi, junior girls singles; and Marlene McGovern, womens singles.

Other entries include Ken Bartz of Rhinelander—Wisconsin Open Junior champion; Mike Lenahan, Bill Welch and Bob Smith of Oshkosh, Bill Cooper of Portage, Dave Bourke of Royal Oak, Ron Schultz of Marinette, Jeff Harris of Negaunee, Elroy Mattson and Gary Blomquist of Iron Mountain, and the following from Marquette: Bob Brumm, Dr. Eric Lincke, Dave Franez, John Dorais, Ted Cleveland and Bob Johnson.

Escanaba will have its best home-town representation in the history of the meet with the following already entered: Steve Fisher, Gene Timmer, Tom Mitchell, Baxter Mitchell, Fred Mitchell, Neil Hivala, Steve Houle, John Vader, Robert Snyder, Oliver Felton, Dr. Donald Fitch, Joe Mileski, Steve Henslee, Tom Homes, Mary Jo Meinz, Pat Gayan, Carol Courneene, Marlene McGovern and Tom Michaels.

Extra Inning Marathons Old Stuff For Washington's Baseball Outfit

By The Associated Press

You can try the patience of the Washington Senators for just so long—say 19 innings—and then they react.

The Senators lost to Baltimore 7-5 in 19 innings June 4. Eight days later, they hooked up with Chicago in the longest night in major league history in both innings 22 and time six hours, 38 minutes and won 6-5.

Then Wednesday, they got caught up in the second longest night game and won again, 9-7 over Minnesota in 20 innings.

"I'm getting used it it," was the joking reaction of Washington catcher Paul Okasan who played every inning of all three marathon games, and won the extra inning affair with a bases loaded single.

"You never get used to them," said a happy, but somewhat more serious Gil Hodges, the Senators' manager.

"When you blow a seven-run lead with two out, something is wrong," said unhappy Minnesota Manager Cal Erner.

What was wrong were four straight singles and a homer. They came with two out in the seventh inning and produced seven runs to tie the game.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit topped first-place Chicago 4-2, Boston whipped Kansas City 5-1, California blanked New York 7-0 and Cleveland edged Baltimore 4-3.

St. Louis nipped Los Angeles 3-2 in 11 innings, Cincinnati drubbed Houston 7-3, New York belted Atlanta 5-1 and Chicago split with Pittsburgh, wining 6-0 before losing 10-6, in National League action. San Francisco and Philadelphia were rained out.

"He just threw the ball right where I was swinging," said Washington's Ken McMullen. "I think it was a change-up."

Minnesota pitcher Jim Roland confirmed it was a change-up that McMullen hit 394 feet in the left field pavillion for his 14th homer to give the Senators an 8-7 lead in the top of the 20th.

Washington added another run when Frank Howard, whose three-run homer climaxed the seventh inning uprising, followed McMullen with a double and scored on Dick Nen's sacrifice fly.

Dave Baldwin then retired the Twins in the home half of the 20th for his first victory in four decisions as the sixth-place Senators climbed to the .500 mark and to within 6½ games of first place.

After six innings it had looked as if the Twins would move to within 1½ games of the top. They led 7-0 and Dave Boswell was sailing along on a two-hitter.

Then with two on and two out, Tim Cullen singled home two runs, and Mudcat Grant replaced Boswell. Mike Epstein singled, Ed Stroud's single brought in a run and McMullen singled in another.

In came Ron Kline, and out went Howard's 29th homer for a tie game.

After Dick Lines got the Twins out in the seventh, Darold Knowles came on to limit them to three hits, walked two and strike out 10 in the next 10 innings before giving way to Baldwin.

Al Worthington stopped the Senators on two hits, striking out eight and walking two before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the 16th.

Minnesota used 21 players and Washington 19 in the game which took 5:40 to complete, tying it with the last June 17 Detroit-Kansas City game as the second longest night game in time consumed.

Jim Lonborg flew in from Atlanta, where he is serving two weeks with the Army Reserve, to beat Kansas City and become the major league's first 16-game winner. He has lost five.

Jerry Adair drove in three runs for Boston, which replaced Minnesota in second place, 1½ games behind Chicago, and relief pitcher Sparky Lyle helped out Lonborg in the eighth when Kansas City scored its run.

Veteran left - hander Curt Simmons, purchased by California from the Chicago Cubs last Sunday, made his AL debut a success by scattering 10 Yankee hits and being tough in the clutch.

Jose Cardenal drove in three California runs.

Cleveland got its four runs in the fifth, two on a homer by Vic Davalillo and Sam McDowell, 10-9, and Sonny Siebert made them stand up against Baltimore.

Otto Graham Elated As 'Skins Win Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coach Otto Graham is usually conservatively optimistic but even he could hardly contain his elation in describing his Washington Redskins' victory over the Chicago Bears.

"We've become a team," said Graham after the Redskins romped 37-14. "Unity. That word covers a lot of territory but the team has the right attitude.

"They hit hard, and there was plenty of downfield blocking. The kids really got out there and hustled and hit hard."

Graham, refusing to single out any particular player, heaped praise on the entire squad Wednesday night after the nationally televised National Football League exhibition game. A sellout crowd of 47,565 was on hand at D. C. Stadium for the opening exhibition by both clubs.

In the visitors' dressing room, Bears' Coach George Halas just shook his head and said: "I can't see how 60 men can make so many mistakes. But we made them.

"I would like to tell you the things I saw that pleased me," he said as he dressed after the game. "But there weren't many good things."

Both teams used just about every player available. It was the Redskins, however, that seemed closer to midseason form.

Washington scored four touchdowns — two within 18 seconds in the fourth quarter—and three field goals by Charlie Gogolak from distances of 23, 47 and 18 yards.

In the final period, Washington fullback A. D. Whittfield rambled up the middle for an eight-yard touchdown at the three-minute mark. On the first play after the kickoff, Chicago's Andy Livingston fumbled and Washington's defensive back Paul Krause picked up the ball and scooted 26 yards for a touchdown.

Washington got off to an early lead but it was not until the final period that the Redskins broke the game open. In the third quarter, however, quarterback Sonny Jurgensen put the game out of reach when he hit split end John Burrell on a 15-yard touchdown pass.

The Redskins scored their first touchdown on a one-yard plunge by fullback Joe Don Looney in the second period.

The Bears, using a different quarterback each quarter, were unable to muster any offensive drive until Jack Concannon, acquired in the offseason from the Philadelphia Eagles, took the reins. He engineered a drive after the second half kickoff which led to the Bears' first touchdown—a 10-yard run by Gale Sayers.

Chicago's only other score came late in the fourth period when quarterback Dave Matheson brought the team 44 yards on nine plays, Ralph Kurek getting the score on a run from four yards out.

Elsewhere on the professional football front Wednesday, the Cleveland Browns traded reserve quarterback Archie Roberts to Atlanta for a future draft choice.

Roberts has never played for the Browns, having studied medicine for the last two years at Western Reserve University. If the former Columbia star doesn't make the Falcons' squad, he will return to the Browns.

Green Bay cut three rookies from its roster, but all were quickly picked up by other NFL clubs. Dwight Hood, linebacker from Baylor, went to Minnesota; Harland Reed, Mississippi State end, was claimed by New Orleans, and Clarence Miles, defensive end from Trinity, Tex., went to Detroit.

Baltimere traded halfback Gerald Allen to Washington for an undisclosed draft choice. Allen played on the kickoff and punt-return team for the Colts last season.

FBI Reports Michigan Crime Up 15 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today that crime in Michigan increased by more than 15 per cent in 1966 over the previous year.

Michigan was third in the nation in violent crimes and fifth in total crimes.

The FBI said 182,045 serious crimes were committed in the state last year, an increase of 15.3 per cent over 1965. The crime rate was 2,174.0 per 100,000 of population, an increase of 13.2 per cent.

There were 13,802 murders, forcible rapes, and aggravated assaults in Michigan during the year. The violent crime rate of 380 per 100,000 was surpassed only by Illinois and Florida.

The crime increase in the state ran well ahead of national figures. The FBI reported an 11 per cent increase in crime nationwide.

The Detroit metropolitan area accounted for over 65 per cent of Michigan's total crime and over 60 per cent of the violent crime. The crime rate in Detroit was 2943.3 per 100,000. The Detroit rate was the highest in the state.

Ann Arbor reported 4,084 crimes for a rate of 2,043.6 per 100,000 while Bay City recorded 1,342 crimes, or 1,186.4 per 100,000, the lowest in Michigan.

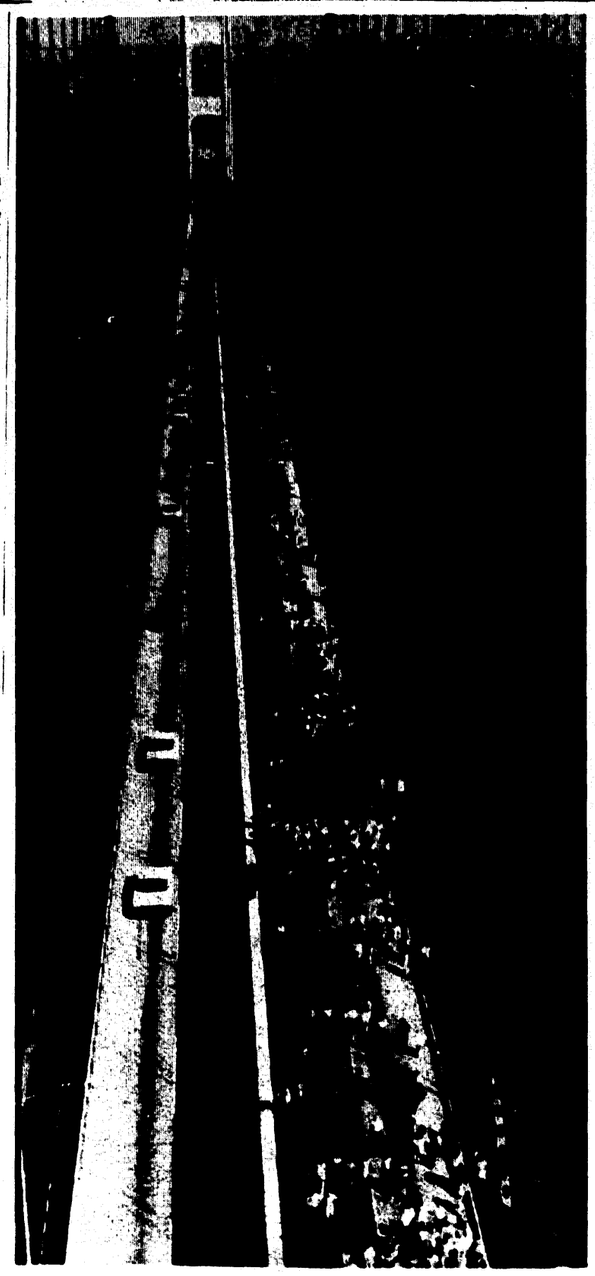

Flint had the second-highest crime rate in the state — 2,264.7 per 100,000 — with a total of 10,592 crimes reported. There were 8,353 crimes committed in Grand Rapids for a rate of 1,650.3 per 100,000.

Jackson and Kalamazoo were among the lowest crime rates in Michigan. 2,037 crimes were reported in Jackson for a rate of 1,451.6 per 100,000, while Kalamazoo recorded 2,787 crimes for a rate of 1,463.6 per 100,000.

The crime rate in the state capital was 1,974.1 per 100,000. The FBI reported 6,642 crimes were committed in Lansing in 1966. There were 3,339 serious crimes committed in Muskegon during the year, giving that city a rate of 2,061.3 per 100,000.

In Saginaw, 2,871 crimes, or 1,391 per 100,000, were committed. In the Toledo, Ohio, metropolitan area, which includes Monroe County, 10,727 crimes were committed, giving the area a rate of 1,623.8 per 100,000.

Most birds stay together for only one breeding season.

THIS IS A BIRD'S VIEW of the annual Labor Day Mackinac bridge walk. It started nine years ago with 65 persons participating and last year more than 10,000 walkers of all ages made the 4½ mile trek from St. Ignace in Michigan's Upper Peninsula to Mackinaw City in the Lower Peninsula. The 10th annual walk is scheduled for Labor Day morning, Sept. 4, the only time of the year pedestrians are permitted on the bridge. Traffic is maintained during the walk.
